

Fabien

Fabien is one of the 2008 FYI Scholarship recipients. He is studying Social Services at George Brown College as his goal is to make a difference in the community. He believes that studying in this field will give him the knowledge and skills needed help people in need.

Fabien is from a single-parent family, and his mother is ill. He tells us, “the FYI Scholarship has been a blessing not only to me, but to my family as well.” This opportunity has supported him to be able to concentrate on his studies, and his family to feel a sense of security.

Fabien believes that this scholarship is very important to youth of this community because it gives them hope. His message to other young people is to always, “continue and to forever believe in themselves.”

“By donating to the FYI Scholarship Program, you will be saving a lot of youth from stress so that they can focus on their studies more and later become productive members of society.”
